

BRITAIN, TURKEY AND WORLD WAR II ALLIANCE, CONFLICT AND NEUTRALITY

One-Day
Conference

This conference is the third meeting in a series which brings together Turkish and British historians to explore the two countries' relations in the twentieth century, as they moved from the fatal confrontation at Gallipoli towards a formal alliance and common cause under the umbrella of NATO in the 1950s. The impact of the Second World War was catalytic. The conference will examine the origins and effects of the Tripartite Treaty between Turkey, France and Britain of 1939, and the Turkish decision to opt for de facto neutrality in 1940. The presentations will also address Churchill's shifting attitudes, and the importance of the roles played by the USSR and the USA in determining the strategic alignment of Turkey between 1939 and 1945.

SPEAKERS

The speakers include Professor Dilek Barlas (Koç University), Professor William Hale (SOAS), Professor Mustafa Aydın (Kadir Has University), Dr Warren Dockter (Aberystwyth University), Dr Edward Corse, Dr. Şuhnaz Yılmaz (Koç University) and Professor Bülent Gökay (Keele University).

Monday

24 September 2018

09:30 - 18:30

followed by a reception

Investcorp Auditorium,
St Antony's College,
62 Woodstock Rd,
Oxford OX2 6JF

£10 conference fee, reduced to £5 for all full-time students, BATAS and BIAA members.
Pre-booked lunch (optional) £13.

To register for the conference, please contact the BIAA London manager, Simon Bell, at BIAA, 10 Carlton House Terrace, London SW1Y 5AH biaa@britac.ac.uk, or by direct registration and payment on the BIAA website: www.biaa.ac.uk